Form 990, Part III, Line 3, Changes in Program Services:

In March 2020 the company cancelled all remaining productions and events for its 2019-20 season as a part of a community-wide effort to slow the transmission of COVID-19. This included 2 mainstage operas originally scheduled for late March and May. One of these was the new opera Edward Tulane. In the face of cancellations, MN Opera quickly pivoted its operations to continue to serve our community including in some new and unexpected ways. The staff in the company's shuttered costume and scene shops to making face masks to protect people. Ultimately, they manufactured over 10,000 masks, delivering over 4,000 to HealthPartners. The company also created "At Home with MN Opera," a multi-platform digital initiative designed to help MN Opera artists, patrons, and staff stay connected with the art form and with each other. We are pleased to report that the company was also able to honor more than 80% of expected artist income from the 2 cancelled productions.

anti-oppressive organization.

During its 56th season, MN Opera successfully produced 3 mainstage productions, Elektra, Barber of Seville and Flight reaching over 20,000 persons. The company also successfully developed the world premiere of commissioned opera Edward Tulane, with music by Paola Prestini and libretto by Mark Campbell. The Opera was fully developed and built and is ready for production.

The Opera supports learning as a lifelong pursuit by offering education programs to youth and adults. This year, activity included in-school residencies; an after-school program supporting social-emotional learning in addition to skill building (Music Out Loud); an expanded technical training program where students receive hands-on learning and mentorship opportunities in technical theater production (Technical Theater Lab); creative aging initiatives. The latter included residencies in assisted living facilities (Opera Connections) and a chorus for active adults age 55+ (Voices of Opera).

The company also runs a young singer training program, Project Opera, which annually produces an opera entirely for youth and by youth. This season's production was Belongings, which explores the stories of two groups of children across two time periods who are forced to flee their homes because of war. MN Opera continued to develop its commission for Project Opera, an adaptation of The Song Poet by St. Paul author Kao Kalia Yang. The piece, for which Kalia is also writing the libretto, tells the story of the Hmong American experience. Community engagement efforts are underway, in partnership with a community organizer, to build relationships with the local Hmong community.

The Opera's nationally recognized Resident Artist Program nurtures the next generation of opera artists, providing them a critical bridge between conservatory training and a professional career. In the 2019-20 season, the Opera supported the careers of ten emerging opera professionals. Participants received nine months of intensive professional development, including master classes, audition training, and the chance to network with agents and other companies. In addition to participating in the Opera's productions, these artists were an integral part of the company's outreach and education efforts, serving as operatic ambassadors throughout the community both in schools and at special events. For the first time ever, MN Opera offered a fellowship for an Assistant Technical Director and dedicated the position to an emerging leader of color.
